"The wheels of true love never run Along a rougher course Than does the business of the man Who would succeed perforce; And never to his aid doth call The most successful plan Of advertising spring and fall And over when he can."

- Plenty of mud. THE STAR for $1.00. Read Bell's new "ad." Gas meters are working. Election bets are now on. Town was lively Saturday. Eastman kodaks at Stoke's. Tramps are still meandering. Aldeen Reed has scarlet fever. Snyder & Johns, fashionable tailors. Saturday was pay day at the mines. $5.00 buys a fine all-wool suit at Bell's. Look for the "spinters" in November. Wagon castor oil 15c. pint at Stoke's. See report of First National bank in this issue. There is scarlet fever in Ezra Hartman's family. See the fine line of suits and overcoats at Bell's. A shower of advertising will bring a storm of trade. For neat fitting suit, go to Snyder & Johns, fashionable tailors. The finest line of $10.00 overcoats ever shown in town at Bell's. The greatest line of overcoats ever brought to Reynoldsville at Bell's. Everybody has the button. It is a fad that has come with mighty force. At King & Co.'s you will find baled hay, salt, flour and a full line of general merchandise. There will be no services in the Lutheran church Sunday. Sunday school at the usual time in the forenoon.

Gents, see the fine all-wool overcoat for $7.00 at Bell's. If you take care of your pennies the dollars will be blown in by your heirs. A Polander had his head badly cut by a fall of coal in Big Soldier mine last Wednesday night. Mr. and Mrs. Ward Eason were in Brookville this week attending the funeral of Mr. Eason's mother. On Friday G. J. Corwin will go to Phillipsburg and his photograph gallery in this place will be closed for ten days. Deible Bros. have had their large wagon works re-painted. The buildings were painted red trimmed with a dark brown. The Methodist Episcopal and Presbyterian churches have changed the hour for Sunday evening preaching services from 7.30 to 7.00. It is not necessary for the moonshiner to advertise to make a success of his business. He keeps still. It is different with other businesses. John S. Smith, of Oakdale Station, near Pittsburg, formerly a citizen of this place, is dangerously ill. There is little hope of his recovery. A wagon and buggy collided on Main street, near the school house, Saturday evening about eight o'clock. The buggy was "knocked out." Mrs. David Eason, of Brookville, mother of Ward Eason, clerk in Deemer & Co.'s store in this place, died at her home Sunday afternoon. The only thing that can be compared to a good advertisement in working ability is a mortgage. They both work day and night, rain or shine. D. W. Atwater, of this place, has been engaged the past few days painting the large smoke stacks at Rochester and London mines for the coal company. There will be a Democratic meeting in the P. O. S. of A. hall, Rathmel, on Friday evening. S. H. Whitehill, of Brookville and other speakers will be present. The Junior Epworth League held a very enjoyable social at the Methodist Episcopal parsonage last Wednesday evening. Refreshments were served to the Juniors. The Bible School Convention (Western Division) of the Clearfield Baptist Association will be held in the First Baptist church of Punxsutawney on Tuesday, Nov. 10th, 1896. A tramp printer who would much rather strike a "take" at a case of beer than a "take" at a case of type, called at THE STAR office yesterday afternoon. The fellow has worked six days this year. By a fall of slate in the coal mine at Eleanor Thursday afternoon a Hungarian was killed. He was buried Friday afternoon in a cemetery near Eleanor. A lodge to which he belonged attended the funeral. The "Birthday Social" given by the Jr. Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church in the G. A. R. hall Saturday evening proved to be a jolly occasion for the Juniors. Light refreshments were served. J. C. King & Co. have had their large double store building repainted. The front is trimmed in black, yellow and white. The body of the building is painted with the Famous Trinidad Asphalt Roof and Iron Paint. The horny-handed man calls it "pay," the skilled mechanic "wages," the city clerk "salary," the banker "income," a land owner "rent bill," a lawyer "fees," a burglar "swag," but it all comes to the same at the end of the week. The Woman's Relief Corps will give an entertainment in the opera house on Tuesday evening, Oct. 27th. The ladies of the Relief Corps are making an effort to pay off the mortgage on the Brookville Memorial Home, and receipts from the entertainment will go to this fund. Rev. J. R. Baker, pastor of the Brookwayville Presbyterian church, has resigned the Brookwayville charge, where he has been five years, to accept a call from Newberry, a suburb of Williamsport. Rev. Baker's resignation takes effect the first of next month. Mrs. Joseph Mancuso, wife of the Italian whose house burned on East Main street about one year ago, died at Winterburn, Pa., last Friday. Her remains were brought to Reynoldsville on the 7:52 train Saturday evening and buried in the Catholic cemetery Sunday forenoon. James B. Arnold and father, F. K. Arnold, will return to-day, from a trip through Colorado, and in this issue we publish a portion of a private letter written by James B. Arnold to his wife while in Colorado. We expect to publish two or three other articles from the pen of Mr. Arnold. Young men are cautioned not to worry even if they have no pedigree to brag of. They may sometime become the father of the president of the United States or the grandfather of a first rate newspaper man. What they can do for posterity should be of far greater concern than what ancestry has done for them. A young man has never been known to get there, however, behind a cigarette.

Burned with Jelly. William, fifteen-month-old son of Ethan E. Stewart, had his left arm badly burned last Thursday morning with a glass of hot jelly. Mrs. Stewart was making jelly and the little "tot" pulled a glass full off the table.

Club Organized. A silver meeting was held at Rathmel last Thursday evening which was addressed by A. M. Armstrong and W. B. Wilson. After the meeting a silver club was organized at that place with a membership of eighty-two. The following officers were elected for the club: L. G. Lidle, president; Ed. Hughes, vice-president; S. S. Haines, secretary; W. J. Henry, treasurer.

First Communication. Two weeks ago we announced that the columns of THE STAR would be open until election day for the discussion of the money question, which is now receiving the attention of all thoughtful people. The first person to take advantage of our offer was Isaiah Swartz, and on another page will be found an article from his pen headed, "A few reasons why I am for bimetalism."

Special Meeting of Council. A special meeting of town council will be held this evening to install new life into the inactive board of health. THE STAR called attention last week to the deplorable condition of the board of health and the necessity of having a live board; and we are pleased to note this week that W. S. Stone, president of the council, and other members of the council have become sufficiently interested to hold a special meeting to take action concerning it. Mr. Stone has been investigating the matter during the past week to learn the cause of the inactivity and other matters of importance about the board of health.

Postponed on Account of Death. It was announced in THE STAR last week that the Improved Order of Red Men, Mazomania Tribe No. 341, would celebrate the third anniversary of the organization of the society in Reynoldsville on Monday, Oct. 12th, with an Indian street parade, supper in G. A. R. hall and dance in the Nolan building, on account of the death of Harry Heckman, a member of the order, the entire "doings" was postponed until some future time. Ten or fifteen Red men from Falls Creek drove down Monday morning to take part in the parade, &c., and they returned home in the afternoon.

Rev. Robinson Called. At a congregational meeting held in the First Presbyterian church of this place last Wednesday evening, Rev. G. A. Robinson, of Clarion, was given a unanimous call to become pastor of the church. Rev. Robinson is considered a very able and fine preacher. He is a man about fifty years old. Rev. Robinson will not be in Reynoldsville for two Sundays at least on account of being in attendance at a Sunday school convention next Sunday and the following Sunday will hold communion services for the people he has been serving as pastor. Some one will fill the pulpit of the Presbyterian church in this place every Sunday until Rev. Robinson can come himself.

Silver Meeting. A silver meeting was held in Centennial Hall last Wednesday evening which was attended with a packed house. The Keystone band played three very lively selections in front of the hall before eight o'clock. The meeting was called to order by Ex-District Attorney W. L. McCracken, of Brookville. W. C. Schultze was elected president of the meeting, with twenty vice-presidents, and J. C. Swartz and C. J. Kerr secretaries. A. M. Armstrong, of Brookwayville, Democrat candidate for Assembly, made a short address and then W. B. Wilson, the advertised speaker of the evening, was introduced. Mr. Wilson, who is the Master Workman of Independent Order of Knights of Labor, is a good talker. His address was well received by the crowd present.

The Canton Excursion. At 7:40 A. M. last Thursday the excursion train bound for Canton, Ohio, the home of Major McKinley, pulled into the A. V. R'y station at this place. The train, which was running as first section of No. 6, was composed of two locomotives and sixteen coaches. The crowd on the train was small when it reached Reynoldsville. Sixty-seven passengers, including the Keystone band, got on the train at this place. When the train left Red Bank there were between six and seven hundred people on it. The excursionists reached Canton at 3:50 P. M. They marched to Major McKinley's home and Judge John W. Reed was the spokesman for the Jefferson county delegation. Major McKinley responded with an address that was well received by the delegation from this section. The Republican candidate has not posted notices up to "keep off" the grass and the lawn in front of his residence has been tramped by the multitude of visitors until it has no more grass on it than the middle of the public highway. The excursionists left Canton, homeward bound, at 7:00 P. M. and arrived at Reynoldsville at 4:30 A. M., Friday, well pleased with the trip.

Wedding Bells. At 6.30 this, Wednesday, evening M. W. McDonald, insurance agent of this place, son of Samuel McDonald, of Porter township, Jefferson county, and Miss Minnie May Reynolds, daughter of Thomas Reynolds, jr., of Winslow township, will be united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, by Rev. W. Selner, Lutheran minister of Luthersburg. No one but relatives of the contracting parties have received invitations to attend the wedding. Miss Maggie and Mr. Will Reynolds, sister and brother of the bride, will stand with the young couple during the ceremony.

After the nuptial knot is tied a meal fit for a king will be spread for the guests. Mr. and Mrs. McDonald will drive to DuBois to-night and to-morrow will start on an extended wedding trip to Baltimore, Md., Washington, D. C., and several other places farther south. Mr. McDonald is a very nice young man, full of enterprise, and Miss Reynolds is an estimable young lady, one who has many friends. It may be a little previous to offer congratulations, but we do it just the same, and wish the soon to be wedded pair joys unlimited in the days that lie before them.

Everything Topsy-turvy. Father, dear father, come home with me now, for ma has some carpets to beat; she's got all the furniture out in the yard, from the front room clean down to the street. The stove must be put in its place; and the yard must be cleaned of dead grass; for its time to clean house and "Old Nick" to pay—and the front window needs some new glass. Father, dear father, come home with me now, and bring some bologna and cheese; its most twelve o'clock and there's nothing to eat—I'm so hungry I'm weak in my knees. All the dinner we'll have will be cold scraps and such, and we'll have to eat standing up, too, for the table and chairs are out in the yard, oh, I wish the fall cleaning was through. Father, dear father, come home with me now, for ma is as mad as a Turk; she says you're a lazy old thing, and that she proposes to put you to work. There's painting to do and paper to hang, and the windows and casings to scrub; for it's house cleaning time, and you've got to come home, and revel in suds and cold grub.

Died Sunday. Harry Abraham Lincoln Heckman, who was born at Minersville, Schuylkill Co., Pa., August 31st, 1865, thirty-one years ago last August, and moved with his parents to Reynoldsville twenty-eight years ago, died at his home in West Reynoldsville at 5.30 P. M. last Sunday of a complication of diseases, consumption, stomach trouble and heart trouble. For a number of months he was unable to do any work. On the 19th of December, 1889, Harry and Miss Mary Kline were married by Rev. W. H. Bunce. The wife and two boys, aged two and four years, survive the deceased. Funeral services were held in the M. E. church at 3:00 P. M. yesterday, conducted by Rev. Crawford, of this place, and Rev. W. H. Bunce, of Kane. Rev. Bunce preached an excellent sermon. The Improved Order of Red Men, Mazomania Tribe No. 341, of which the deceased was a member, attended the funeral in a body. Interment took place in Beulah cemetery.

One Killed and Two Injured. The excursion train returning from Canton, Ohio, ran into a hand car, near Driftwood, Friday morning on which three section men were riding to their work. One of the men, Joseph Kaluski, was instantly killed and the other two badly injured. The hand car and train were both going in the same direction, but the section men did not hear the train coming and, on account of the dense fog and a curve in the road, Engineer Frank Richardson did not see the hand car and its human freight until he had run them down so close that the men did not have time to jump to escape.

The New Money. The new picture money which is being sent out by the government is undoubtedly artistic. Another consignment has been sent out in the shape of $5 bills, with a design even more elaborate than that of the first $1 bill with its misspelled "tranquility." The smaller note bore a picture of a reclining woman with one arm around a youth to whom she is pointing out the first page of the Constitution. The new $5 bill shows a woman representing civilization, holding aloft in her right hand an electric lamp and surrounded by other images intended to be allegorical.

Having secured a first-class trimmer from the city, I am ready to please the most fastidious taste. Come and give us a trial. We will have a fine display of trimmed goods Oct. 23rd and 24th. FLO BEST, Main St., Reynoldsville, Pa. Five Dollars Reward. I will give five dollars reward for evidence that will convict any person that is guilty of killing game out of season. F. P. ADELSPERGER. A special drive in window shades at Stoke's. $1.00 for a fine fleeced wool suit of underwear at Bell's.

Our Educational Column. "Oaks William," Editor. Address all communications relative to this department to Editor Educational Column, care of THE STAR. Boys and girls, give attention to your uncle for a time. And listen while he gives to you some good advice in rhyme. Be studious, do not falter though sometimes you fall behind. But push ahead with vigor 'till you catch your second wind. If something seems to go amiss just lightly pass it by. Cut your acquaintance with "I can't" and cultivate "I'll try." And, although at times you're weary, keep on and you will find That keeping up is easy when you get your second wind. The path to Learning's temple is all the way And, to the topmost height attain, requires a firm "I will." Hard study, strict obedience, be courteous and refined. And steadily go along until you catch your second wind. Cultivate your every faculty; in knowledge there is power. Lose not one precious moment, but improve each passing hour. No steps backward, always forward, keep in mind, And put forth every effort 'till you catch your second wind. Boys and girls, don't lose sight of the fact that but ten weeks intervene between the present and the mid-term examinations for promotion. You have a certain amount of work to accomplish during the first half of the term. How much have you completed of it? Can you show good results for every hour of the time completed, or have you neglected to improve a portion of it. Don't deceive yourselves. There is not one hour to spare. School has been in session long enough to have enabled every pupil to have his or her work down to a system and there is no excuse that can be given for not having your work complete. This year you are laying the corner stone of your life's educational structure, and in the erection of that temple you should see to it that nothing be left undone that would mar its utility in any particular, for it is to be a permanent building and care should be taken that nothing but the best material should be used. Don't patch and bolster it up trying to present a pleasing exterior, or it will be liable to collapse and leave nothing but a heap of ruins. But rather build it strongly and securely, little by little, as the coral insect builds its islands. Do your work thoroughly and systematically. Every man is the architect of his own fortune. Do right, as God gives you to see the right, then in after years you will not be compelled to look back over a wasted life and say: "It might have been."

SCHOOL NOTES. A number of books were added to the library last week, for which Principal Lenkerd desires to return thanks. Let the good work continue. Rev. Shepherd, Hon. S. B. Elliott, Rev. Crawford and Mr. Postlewait attended chapel exercises since our last issue and gave sound advice in short talks, which were well received. A pair of buffalo horns were added to the museum this week, the gift of Mr. J. W. Coleman. The first tuition for admittance to the high school was received last week by Prof. Lenkerd. This shows progress and is encouraging. An application containing not less than fifteen names of those desiring to attend must be presented to the board of directors before night school can be opened. The morning talks in chapel by our townspeople are conducive to the welfare of the schools. The Shakespearean Society elected its officers on Friday evening last. President, Mary Muir; vice president, Susie Schultze; secretary, Frankie Kirk. TO ORGANIZE AN ALUMNI ASSOCIATION. All persons having a diploma from the Reynoldsville public schools, and all persons having passed through the public schools of this place and having received a teacher's certificate, are requested to meet in the assembly room of the new school building Saturday afternoon, Oct. 17th, at 2:30 o'clock, for the purpose of organizing a High School Alumni Association. G. W. LENKERD, Prin.
